Hike: Assault on Rocky Peak from Hummingbird Creek.

Trailhead: Take the 118 Freeway west and exit the first off-ramp in Simi Valley (Kuehner Dr.). Unimproved parking areas abound on the north side of the freeway.

The hike begins at the Hummingbird Creek Trail Head. The first part of the hike climbs over the rocky face and gains about 1000' in the first 2.3 miles. This climb gets us to a fire road which if followed leads us to Rocky Peak cutoff after about 1.7 miles and an elevation gain of about 500'. From here to the peak is a very short distance and less than 100' gain in elevation. If you have chosen this approach to Rocky Peak, you missed the opportunity to scramble up the south face of the peak. It's your choice.
